The 6th International FRANZ LISZT Competition for Young Pianists 2020 takes place in the rooms of the University of Music FRANZ LISZT Weimar and the Musikgymnasium Schloss Belvedere.

University of Music FRANZ LISZT Weimar

Based in the home-town of German Classicism and rich in tradition, the University of Music FRANZ LISZT Weimar is an institution of higher education for young musicians, academics, and ambassadors of music from across the entire globe. It is indebted to the legacy of Franz Liszt, who successfully combined in his person composer, virtuoso, ensemble musician, pedagogue, and pensive philosopher. The institution aims to compete with the world's most renowned music academies.

Musikgymnasium Schloss Belvedere

Heading south from the centre of Weimar, one finds the Musikgymnasium Schloss Belvedere Weimar, a modern boarding school complex, and the beautiful park of the Rococo Belvedere Place. The Musikgymnasium, which is a UNESCO project school, serves as a centre of excellence for the University of Music FRANZ LISZT Weimar in a tradition going back to the days of Franz Liszt himself.

Practice Rooms

About 25 practice rooms are available for participants in the Schloss Belvedere Music School as well as in two of the four Cavalier Houses (Mozart House and Beethoven House) belonging to the rococo palace Belvedere. All rooms are equipped with either a grand piano or upright piano.
