1. Welcome to Weimar

With its population of 65,000 residents, Weimar is small enough to feel familiar in a short time, let you focus on your studies and yet large enough to offer plenty of diversions. There are fascinating opportunities for art and culture aficionados, lovers of nightlife, athletes, and foodies – opportunities comparable to those you'd expect from a big city. The greatest of these, of course are the cultural opportunities – not only because the titles of »European Capital of Culture« (1999) and »University Town« (since 2004) come with certain obligations in this regard, but also through the effect of key figures who have left their mark on Weimar in Germany.

Weimar occupies a relatively central location in Germany, and can be reached by train, bus or car (via Autobahn A9 and A4) from nearby cities with international airports – such as Frankfurt, Berlin, and Leipzig – in three hours or less.

To experience the spirit of Weimar, pay a visit to the many museums and the locations where personalities such as Goethe, Schiller, Liszt, Nietzsche, Gropius, Itten and Kandinsky created their works. The spirit of history is not limited to the museums and exhibits; you can feel it throughout the city. Even in the green spaces – the Park on the Ilm, the nearby Park Tierfurt, the historic cemetery and the Schlosspark Belvedere – it is only a matter of time before you encounter the great names of those who have resided here. The numerous parks are perfectly suited to strolling, relaxation, picnicking and leisure activities.

The park is also a meeting point for runners, soccer, frisbee and occasionally cricket players - swimmers probably prefer the swimming pool ('Schwanseebad') of the city, as the river Ilm is not really suitable for swimming. Even so, there is a small part where you can cool down your feet on hot summer days!

On Ettersberg, some 10km from the centre of Weimar, the Buchenwald Memorial is located. The permanent exhibit and paths leading around the expansive terrain explain the history of the former concentration camp of Buchenwald, the Soviet internment camp, and the memorial itself.

If you want a short break after a day of studying, Weimar offers four movie theatres; The »Lichthaus Kino« on Kirschberg and the communal cinema »mon ami« on Goetheplatz usually run films that are out of the mainstream and put on selected theme-based events, whereas the »Cinestar« in Schützengasse and the »3D-Kino im Atrium« show the proven mix new releases and blockbusters.

Shopping fans can also get their money's worth in Weimar. In addition to the 'Atrium' in Friedensstraße, there is an increasing number of shops downtown where graduates of the Bauhaus University present their designs. And many concert halls, pubs and clubs host musical events from our own music students as well. There is also plenty to be found outside of Weimar – with a semester ticket for regional trains, you can easily get to the nearby state capital of Erfurt, or the city of Jena.

Every year, Every year, events such as the backup_festival, Bauhaus Summer School, the Yiddish Summer, the 'Kunstfest' (Art Festival), the 'Klangrausch' festival, a couple of the 'Lange Nacht' type of events, and the biggest festival in Thuringia, the 'Zwiebelmarkt', ensure that there is never a boring moment in the summer.

The programme of the »Deutsches Nationaltheater Weimar« (DNT), ranging from modern dance to opera, concert performances, and classical plays is considered unique in all of Germany. As a student of the HfM, you will receive free tickets if they are left over directly before the event at the DNT. Buying your ticket in advance, you will pay discount prices at all of the venues of the DNT, the numerous small performance spaces and cabarets, and nearly all of the cultural facilities in Weimar and the surrounding area.

Friends of contemporary art can also enjoy the »Neues Museum«, »C.Keller« and the »ACC Galerie«. Local radio and television stations provide information on exhibits, readings, and other events.

Grocery shopping can be done close to the University in the downstairs supermarket inside Goethekaufhaus on Theaterplatz or at the Nahkauf in Steubenstraße. On the market at Marktplatz from Monday to Saturday you can also find vegetables, fruits, eggs and more. Organic food markets are located at Herderplatz (Rosmarin) and on Eduard-Rosenthal-Straße and Damaschkestraße (bigger supermarkets) outside of the city centre. Large chain supermarkets can be found in the suburbs outside of Weimar.

If you prefer to leave the cooking to someone else, you cannot go wrong with one of numerous restaurants serving domestic and international cuisine. In addition to gourmet cuisine, there is a huge selection of cafés, bars, and pubs, as well as a bratwurst stand on nearly every corner.

And it can all be found in a city centre where nothing is more than 10 minutes' walk away. On those occasions when you have to go a longer distance, or simply do not have time to walk, you can reach everything in Weimar by bike or bus.

Last, but not least, the team of the International Office and the International Scouts, are here to welcome and advise you. We host several events during the semester, so look out for posters, visit our Social Media pages (International Office HfM Weimar).

Don't hesitate to drop by or leave a message if there's anything you need help with! All requests can be directed to international@hfm-weimar.de

2. Organising the start of your studies

2.1. Application process

The first step to apply for a study program at the HfM Weimar is choosing the field of study and the academic degree you are interested in and then, check the requirements for the option you selected. You can find our institutes and departments in the 'Studies Portal' on our website- just follow the QR code or this link:

In general we offer the following degrees:

- Bachelor of Music
- Bachelor of Arts
- Bachelor of Education
- Master of Music
- Master of Arts
- Master of Education
- First state examination
- Diploma (only church music)
- Konzertexamen (third-cycle studies)
- Doctorate – in Musicology, Music Education and Cultural Management

The academic degrees offered, vary for each study programme, so please consult our website for more detailed and current information.

2.2. General requirements for applicants outside the European Union

The following qualifications are required for studying at the University of Music FRANZ LISZT Weimar:

- ⇒ For all pedagogical and scientific study programmes, you will need to demonstrate that you hold the 'Allgemeine Hochschulreife' or equivalent.
- ⇒ Only for performance studies this condition may be waived.
- ⇒ Furthermore, you will need to successfully take an audition at the HfM Weimar, according to the institution's regulations for auditions. For the concert diploma course, you will need to hold an undergraduate degree in the subject you are intending to take as your major subject, as well as successfully taking the audition. A degree in music education is not sufficient.
- ⇒ In order to study music education, musicology and cultural management, proof of German language skills at level C1 is required, for artistic subjects level B2 is sufficient. Language skills can be proven, for example, with the 'Deutsche Sprachprüfung für den Hochschulzugang' (DSH), the 'Test Deutsch als Fremdsprache' (TestDaF), 'The European Language Certificates' (telc), or Goethe certificates. We recommend attending a certified language school.
- ⇒ For Konzertexamen and Erasmus students a B1 language proficiency is recommended, but does not need to be certified.

2.2.1. Required documents for degree-seeking students

Please apply online first and check the specific requirement for your field of study:

The following documents must be submitted with your application:

- ⇒ Selection of pieces for the audition in your core subject
- ⇒ A tabular CV, which provides information about your artistic development in particular
- ⇒ Only for scientific and pedagogical studies: proof of your ‚Allgemeine Hochschulreife‘ (e.g. ‚Abitur‘) or a statement that you expect to obtain this qualification before beginning your course
- ⇒ For postgraduate applications: proof of your completed undergraduate degree, or a statement that you expect to obtain this qualification before beginning your course
- ⇒ Applicants who are not yet of legal age (i.e. under 18): a statement of permission from your parents/guardians
- ⇒ International applicants: certified proof of your current German language proficiency (not compulsory)
- ⇒ International applicants: you will need to provide all relevant documentation in certified German translation

2.2.2. Change of institutions

Recognition of previous studies

Should you be changing your institution within the territory of the ‚Hochschulrahmengesetz‘, qualifications already obtained as part of the same degree course will be fully acknowledged. Those exams required as part of the exam regulations at the HfM Weimar which were not taken at your previous institution will need to be taken retrospectively.

The principle that the same degree requires the same qualifications is applied. Since you will not be demoted to a lower year of study when changing your institution, we recommend that you check whether you will be able to obtain the outstanding qualifications at the HfM Weimar in the remaining terms left for the timely completion of the course in the standard course outline before your application.

Recognition of exam qualifications obtained abroad

Applicants for diploma, first state exam, or Magister Artium degrees should be aware that qualifications obtained or exams taken abroad will be recognised only up to the pre-diploma (Vordiplom) or ‚Zwischenprüfung‘ stage, and only if their equivalence can be demonstrated. You will require the necessary certificates in German translation and as certified copies, and will need to submit these to the examination office following enrolment.

Exams which need to be completed as part of the fundamental studies („Grundstudium“, terms 1–4) at the University of Music FRANZ LISZT Weimar, will need to be taken retrospectively if they have not yet been taken elsewhere.

The recognition of any pre-qualifications is not possible for graduate studies. Please contact the examinations office for further information.

2.2.3. Aptitude tests

Aptitude tests are intended to provide proof of a special artistic aptitude for the chosen course of study with regard to the intended study objective.

This includes, in particular, a developed musical talent, interpretative ability and creative will as well as a developed instrumental, vocal or movement technical ability on the basis of distinct technical skills related to the subject and knowledge of musical functions and contexts. In addition, proof of musical listening skills and knowledge of music theory must be provided. Aptitude tests are only mandatory for artistic and pedagogical study programmes.

ATTENTION: For most subjects, a video (.mp4) must already be uploaded with the application. Please note the specific requirements in the qualifying examination for your subject at.

<https://bit.ly/hfmauditions>

2.2.4. Visa

EU citizens, and nationals of a few other countries, including Andorra, Australia, Honduras, Iceland, Israel, Japan, Canada, the Republic of Korea, Lichtenstein, Monaco, New Zealand, Norway, San Marino, Switzerland, and the USA do not require a visa to enter Germany. They may enter the country without visa, but will require a permit to stay in Germany for the duration of their studies. This permit must be obtained from the relevant immigration office (‘Ausländerbehörde’) within three months of arrival.

Nationals from all other countries must apply to the German embassy in their home country for a study visa. You are strongly discouraged to come to study in Germany on a tourist visa! Please consult with the German embassy, consulate or other intermediating application agencies in your home country. You can find the addresses of the German diplomatic missions on the website of the Federal Foreign Office, which also contains information on exactly which documents you will need:

<https://www.auswaertiges-amt.de/en/visa-service>

2.2.5. Proof of financing

Before you begin your studies, you will have to prove that you have enough money to support yourself if you come to Germany on a student visa. The document you need is called a ‘Finanzierungsnachweis’, or proof of financial resources.. The amount of money you need per year is called ‘Regelbedarf’, which means it is the amount of money that is estimated to be needed by a student to live in Germany for one year.

There are a number of ways to show that you can finance your studies. The following forms of proof are possible:

- ⇒ Your parents can submit documents certifying their income and financial assets.
- ⇒ Someone with permanent residence in Germany can guarantee the Alien Registration Office to cover your expenses.
- ⇒ A security payment can be deposited into a blocked account.
- ⇒ You can present a bank guarantee.
- ⇒ You can present a scholarship award notification from a recognised scholarship provider.

Make sure to inquire at the German embassy in your country as to which form of financial proof is required! In the following chapter, we would like to provide you with more information on the German blocked account that is the most used way to proof your finances:

German blocked account

- ⇒ The blocked account must have sufficient credit in order to cover the costs arising for the duration of your planned stay in Germany, unless other proof of financial support is presented in the visa procedure. Certain standard rates apply that are based on the rates for German students. From 1 January 2023, the presumed annual requirement that must be paid into the blocked account when applying for a visa amounts to 11,208 euros.

The account may only permit the withdrawal of a certain amount per month (for students currently 934 euros).

- ⇒ The blocked account may only be closed with the consent of the blocked account beneficiary. The blocked account beneficiary is either the mission abroad or, after entering Germany, the competent foreigners authority. A blocking notice therefore only ensures that sufficient funds to cover living expenses are always available. It does not entitle the blocked account beneficiary to withdraw money from the blocked account.
- ⇒ Please be aware that living costs are rising constantly, so Always check online for the most current information:

2.2.6. Health Insurance

Anyone who wants to enrol at a German university must have health insurance.

You have to provide confirmation of health insurance coverage when you enrol at university and when you register with the Alien Registration Office. That's why we recommend obtaining health insurance as soon as you arrive in Weimar. Depending on your age, country of origin and the purpose of your stay, you may decide to take out a policy with a private or public health insurance provider. Depending on the country you come from, your health insurance may also be valid in Germany. Erasmus students may be able to apply for the European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) Find out in good time by contacting your insurance company at home!

- ⇒ Generally all students must have health insurance recognised by a public health insurance companies.

The student rate – about 80 euros a month – is the same at all public health insurance companies.

There is a wide choice of statutory health insurance providers with whom you can take out insurance. Basic coverage is always the same: your health insurance covers the cost of check-ups, treatment for illness or after an accident, and certain medications. General costs for hospital stays are also covered. For more information on the various health insurance providers, please check online at www.krankassen.de (website only available in German – tipp: turn on the automatic website translation add-on to your browser!)

2.2.7. Fees

There are no fees for studying for an undergraduate or graduate degree. However, students have to pay a continuation fee of Euro 500 if they exceed the regular duration of their undergraduate course by more than four terms, or their graduate course by more than two terms. Independent of your course, you will have to pay a termly registration fee („Semesterbeitrag“) when you enroll or re-register yourself; this includes your contribution to the HfM Weimar student council, as well as a ticket for regional trains within Thuringia. You will find the current registration fee on our website at

<https://bit.ly/semestercontribution>

3. Arrival and Residency

3.1. Entry requirements

Before traveling to Germany, International students should find out about entry requirements for Germany at the German embassy in their home country. The regulations differ widely from country to country. Find out from the 'Auswärtiges Amt der Bundesrepublik Deutschland' or the 'Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst' (DAAD) whether you need a visa and, if so, what type.

Spouses of students wishing to travel to Germany must demonstrate knowledge of the German language. Only certain German courses are recognised for entry to Germany. Look into this ahead of time at the German Embassy in your home country. Children under 16 years of age are generally allowed to enter the country with their parents.

You are not permitted to study or work in Germany with a tourist visa. More information available auswaertiges-amt.de or daad.de

Get more information on residency law at: bamf.de

Residence permit

Students from outside the EU need to apply for a residence permit at the 'Ausländerbehörde Weimar'. The kind of residence permit you need depends on the reason for your residence. You are not allowed to work or study in Germany with a tourist visa. The application can be done online as well. For current fees and contacts, please check the website:

<https://bit.ly/residencepermitweimar>

General information on appointments and opening times can be found here:

https://bit.ly/auslaenderbehoerde_appointments

3.2. Enrolment

The applicant will generally receive notification within four weeks after the audition. This letter contains the audition result, and will provide enrolment information should your application have been successful. For postgraduate applications, it may take more than four weeks for notification to be sent to you. The entitlement to enrolment is valid only for the term specified in the notification letter.

You must enroll yourself within the given period. Enrolment is completed by using the appropriate form, which may be sent to us via post.

You will need:

- ⇒ Proof that you have paid the current termly fee
- ⇒ Proof that you have paid any other fees/costs incurred in relation to your course

Platz der Demokratie 2/3, in the Rößlersches Haus-Administration Building or at the Steubenstraße 6, in the University Library of the Bauhaus University.

The terminals allow you to top up the credit on your card in amounts ranging from 10 to 200 Euro. You can pay for the top-up with cash or an EC card, depending on the terminal

You will receive your thoska after enrolling at the university.

3.2.3. Course inscription

For information about the lessons and courses you should take according to your plan of studies, check your 'Modulplan'. For instrumental lessons, you don't have to inscribe online, the teacher will contact you. For your first ear training/harmony classes, the inscription will be done for you as well. If you want to participate in a musicology seminar/ music theory/ music history class or the HfM choir, check the list of courses ('Vorlesungsverzeichnis') on the German HfM website.

<https://bit.ly/hfmcoursecatalogue>

Login to your moodle account. Username and password are the same as your HfM Mail login. Search for the course you want to take and inscribe yourself. Sometimes a password is needed for the inscription which is defined by the teacher of the course. On the 'Dashboard', you can see all your courses. Often the moodle platform is used during the semester to share documents or to upload homework etc.. Before the start of the semester, it can take a while until all courses are uploaded on the moodle platform - even if they are already visible in the 'Vorlesungsverzeichnis'! Not all courses are uploaded at the same time but one after the other. So check again every now and then if you don't find your course immediately or ask the responsible teacher for more information.

<https://moodle.hfm-weimar.de/>

The 'Vorlesungsverzeichnis' shows you where and when the class will take place, what it is about, who is going to be your teacher as well as the amount of Credit Points you can get for it and the work you are expected to do. Additional books and lectures might be added there, too.

3.3. Residence registration

All students are required to register their place of residence at the residential registration office ('Einwohnermeldeamt').

In order to arrange an appointment, please send an email to: [terminvergabe.abh\[at\]stadtweimar.de](mailto:terminvergabe.abh[at]stadtweimar.de) Please state your full name, date of birth, the start date of your rental contract in Weimar and the expiry date of your visa and ask for an appointment for the registration of your address ('Wohnsitzanmeldung').

Bürgerbüro der Stadt Weimar
Schwanseestraße 17, 99423 Weimar
+49 (0) 36 43/76 27 62
buergerbuero@stadtweimar.de

You will have to show your rental contract as well as the so-called 'Wohnungsgeberbestätigung' filled in by the landlord. This document can be downloaded on the website of the Bürgerbüro:

<https://bit.ly/buergerbueroeimar>

The confirmation of registration will be important for the application for your residence permit ('Aufenthaltstitel') and to open a bank account.

Please note, that if you live outside the city of Weimar, different municipal offices are responsible.

3.4. Financial aid

Living costs

In order to be granted a residence permit, you will have to demonstrate to the immigration office that you have secured the necessary sum to cover the costs of the coming year (for example, you will need a guarantee from your parents or another person, sufficient savings in your home country, a German account with sufficient funds, or similar). The office will also accept scholarship certificates issued by institutions from your home country or the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD).

A reliable source of financing for subsistence is an important component of a successful academic career. The average monthly expenses for students in Germany amount to 867 Euro. This figure comes from a 'Deutsches Studierendenwerk' study (2019) and takes into account expenses for rent, food, transportation, leisure activities, insurance, medical costs, clothing, telephone, internet, and learning aids. Living costs in Weimar, at some 712 Euro per month, are below this average. If you are applying for a residency permit as an international student in Weimar, you must provide

3.2.1. Student users account and IT services

Upon enrolment, you will receive your university account, consisting of your user:inside name (usually four letters and four numbers) and a temporary password. You will be asked to create your own personal password, after which you will be able to use your user account for the following web services:

- ⇒ Webmail (all University communication goes through your HfM- Mail. Please configure your account as soon as possible so you don't miss important information!)
- ⇒ eduroam (University WiFi)
- ⇒ Moodledok (Online course catalogue)

3.2.2. thoska (student identification card)

The thoska ('Thüringer Hochschul- und Studierendenwerkskarte') is your student identification card. Functions of the thoska include:

- ⇒ Student ID
- ⇒ Library card (also accepted in the 'Herzogin Anna Amalia Bibliothek')
- ⇒ Payment card for dining halls, cafeterias and for courses at the University's sports centre (USZ)
- ⇒ Copying and scanning
- ⇒ Rail, bus, and regional transport ticket within Thuringia (semester ticket) proof of finance (scholarship, savings account, declaration of parental support).

Financing studies according to the Federal Vocational Training Assistance Act (BAföG) is only granted with a written application and at the earliest from your first month of study.

3.4.1. Student jobs

Students from the European Union, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway and Switzerland enjoy unrestricted access to the German labour market and have practically the same rights as German students. However, if they work more than 20 hours per week they must pay certain insurance contributions (just like German students). For students from other countries, special legal regulations apply:

International students from other countries are allowed to work 120 full days or 240 half days per year. They are not allowed to be self-employed or work as freelancers.

Students who want to work more need permission from the 'Agentur für Arbeit' (Federal Employment Agency) and the 'Ausländerbehörde' (foreigners' office). Whether they are given permission depends on the situation on the labour market: the chances are better in regions with low unemployment.

An exception is working as an academic assistant. There is no limit to how many days academic assistants may work. They still have to inform the foreigners' office however. If you are uncertain what category a job falls into, you should seek advice from Student Services or the International Office.

3.4.2. Scholarships

You can also receive financial support from scholarships. Scholarships honour outstanding performance or social commitment. A scholarship is financial support that does not have to be repaid. Scholarships offered by the HfM can be found here:

<https://bit.ly/hfmscholarships>

In addition to the scholarships awarded by the university, numerous sources of funding from private and public institutions (e.g. from foundations) are available. Find out about these opportunities. A good place to start is:

www.stipendienlotse.de

Refugees are entitled to apply for the German Student Aid (BAföG) at the 'Studierendenwerk Thüringen'.

www.stw-thueringen.de

The 'Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst' (DAAD) offers financial aid options to international students.

www.daad.de

'Studierendenwerk Thüringen' also lists a number of jobs for students on its website.

www.stw-thueringen.de › Financing › To Job › Part-time jobs for students

International students, who are not citizens from the European Union (EU), are only allowed to work in Germany with a work permit. The work permit enables you to work 120 full days (1 day = 8 hours), which can be spread out over 240 half-days (1/2 day = 4 hours). This allows you to work during semester breaks. You should also keep in mind that if you earn more than 450 Euro a month, you will be subject to higher health insurance premiums.

A job that is not related to your field of study can have a significant effect on the duration of your studies and cost additional time and energy. It is advisable to find a part-time job in your field, which offers practical experience for you and your subsequent transition to a career.

It is possible to be an 'Wissenschaftliche Hilfskraft' (academic assistant) at the university, working a maximum of 86 hours/month, which is not deducted from the 120 days allowed on a student work permit. Most of the jobs for students in Weimar require working knowledge of the German language

3.5.2. Permanent accommodation

Rental accommodations are the norm in Germany. Rent is paid by bank transfer to the account of the landlord once a month, usually at the beginning of the month. The termination of a flat or a room is always possible only within a certain deadline (usually three months in advance). For financial reasons, many students share a rental with other students in a so-called shared flat (in German, 'Wohngemeinschaft', or simply WG). Each tenant has a private room and shares the kitchen and lavatory with the other tenants.

Residential facilities of 'Studierendenwerk Thüringen' 'Studierendenwerk Thüringen' has many residential facilities in Weimar in which only matriculated students are permitted to live. The Student Housing office will be happy to help you find a suitable accommodation. The rents are all-inclusive which means they include all utilities, such as water, electricity, and heating. The rents range from 172 to 334 Euro per month. Most of the dorms are furnished (with a bed, desk, chair, wardrobe and shelving). There is a common kitchen with a shared stove and refrigerator. Not provided are kitchen appliances, flatware, pots and pans, dishes, and bedding. All of the rent prices are based on a minimum rental period of six months. The rents may be higher for shorter periods. You should submit your application for a dormitory room as soon as you receive your letter of acceptance to the university, as the rooms are granted on a first-come first-served basis. You can apply online to 'Studierendenwerk Thüringen' in Weimar.

Private living quarters

If you do not want to live in a student dormitory, you can either rent a room in a shared flat or rent a flat of your own. All in all, a room in a shared flat will cost you around 230 - 450 € per month. Prices for one room flats start from ca. 300 €. It is advisable to plan a stay of a few days in Weimar in order to search for suitable accommodation. Many rentals become available at the end of each semester. This is a good opportunity to find accommodation quickly and at a reasonable price. Please remember that utilities (e.g. heating and water) and other costs are charged in addition to the base rent. These additional costs are usually charged at a fixed rate, which can change depending on annual consumption, and which may result in retroactive payments and price rises. Electricity is supplied by the power company of your choice and must be paid in addition to the rent, utilities, and other costs.

Sometimes, the private rooms and flats are already furnished or you can buy the furniture of the previous tenant. Otherwise you will have to furnish it yourself.

3.6. Mensa and Cafeteria

For lunch, students of the HfM can either go to the 'Cafeteria am Horn' on top of the Horn building (Carl-Alexander-Platz 1) from 11.30 AM to 1.30 PM or to the freshly renovated 'Mensa am Park' (Marienstraße 15b) from 11 AM to 2 PM. The latter is much bigger and frequented by many Bauhaus and HfM students - more dishes, drinks, salads and desserts are offered there. The payment is done with the hoska which can be charged with food money directly downstairs inside the Mensa building. Careful: You can also charge the thoska with copy money at Horn or Fürstenhaus, which can only be used at the printer - but not for buying food at the Mensa. Prices for food range from 1.60 to 3.60 € depending on the dish you take. Children of students get food for free there if you have a special card for your child. Student restaurants are usually open Monday - Friday, the opening hours during the semester break might change.

Check out the food of the day

Another meeting point of HfM and Bauhaus students is the M18 building (Marienstraße 18), where students run a little coffee place ('s140') as well as a stationery shop ('Kontor und Stift'). You can find cheap coffee and snacks there as well as pencils and pens, all kinds of paper and material for creative work.

5. University | Weimar life

5.1. Semester calendar

Semester duration: In Germany, the academic year is divided into two semesters. Please check the current semester times on our website:

<https://bit.ly/hfmsemesterdates>

Vorlesungszeit (academic period): The 'Vorlesungszeit' is the phase of the semester when students are required to be present and when instruction takes place. It generally lasts 15 weeks.

Vorlesungsfreie Zeit (semester break): The 'vorlesungsfreie Zeit' at the end of the academic phase of the semester, informally known as 'vacation', is a time when no classes take place. During these weeks, you take your tests and exams, write papers, and complete internships. It is also a time to recover, of course.

Prüfungszeitraum (examination period): In February and July, following the 'Prüfungszeitraum', your examinations will take place.

Rückmeldezeitraum (re-registration period): January/February and June/August is the period when you pay your semester fee and register for the coming semester. You'll find the 'Rüchmeldefrist' (re-registration deadline) and semester fee on the web.

5.2. Medical care and emergencies

Medical Care

If you are sick and require treatment from a general practitioner in Weimar, the doctor will ask to see your health insurance card. If the general practitioner cannot help you further, he or she will refer you to a specialist.

Look here for a list of doctors in Thuringia:

<https://bit.ly/doctorsinthuringia>

By clicking on 'Suche verfeinern' (detailed search), you can filter doctors by discipline and language skills.

In Germany all prescription and over-the-counter medicines are sold at pharmacies. The Medical Preparations Act in Germany is very strict. You may find that medicine that is normally for sale at supermarkets in your home country, is only available on prescription in Germany.

Emergencies

If you face a life-threatening emergency, you can call the medical emergency service at any hour of the day. By dialling 112, you can request an ambulance to pick you up immediately.

If you are too sick to go to the doctor, you can ask for a doctor to make a house call by dialling the free phone number (0) 8 00 8 25 25 25.

If you are having an emotional crisis, do not hesitate to call the crisis line at 800-1110111.

If you are suffering from an excruciating headache or other problems in the middle of the night, you can purchase medication from the Pharmacy Emergency Service. Click here [German only] and choose the current month to find out which pharmacy is open for emergencies tonight.

5.3. University sports

The University's sports centre offers a diverse range of sporting activities to students of the HfM Weimar and the Bauhaus University.

We advise you to apply quickly after online application opens, because popular courses may be full quite fast!

Further information on the entire range of sporting offers for students can be found here:

<https://bit.ly/unisportweimar>

5.4. Events

At the FRANZ LISZT University, events are organised by the faculties, the University board, the Student Council and of course, your International Office. The event calendar can be accessed online:

6. Studying with/under special circumstances

6.1. Leave of absence

You may request a leave of absence for the following reasons:

- ⇒ Maternity/ parental leave
- ⇒ Illness
- ⇒ Studies abroad or internship
- ⇒ Committee responsibilities
- ⇒ Preparation for a final exam

Leave of absence is possible for up to two semesters, exams may be taken during this time. During a leave of absence, the payment of scholarships and BAföG is suspended.

Long-term study fee

The fee is 500 Euros per semester but can be remitted in some cases. Therefore contact our Student Services department for consultation.

The fee is required in the following cases:

- ⇒ when the standard duration of studies leading to an initial qualification for the practice of a profession or when the standard duration of consecutive programmes of study is exceeded by more than 4 semesters
- ⇒ when the standard duration of studies is exceeded by more than 4 semesters in a second programme of study („Zweitstudium“).

All programmes of study undertaken at universities in the scope of the HRG (‘Hochschulrahmengesetz’ – a law defining what constitutes a university) are counted. Programmes of study at conservatories are only counted up to the fourth semester.

6.2. Part-time studies

The option to study part-time enables students to combine their studies with other obligations or particular life situations. Students can study for their degree, entirely on a part-time basis, or they can just opt for part-time study for certain periods of time. Part-time study is also convenient if you are still learning German and have to prove the B2 level soon.

When studying part-time, one semester is extended to the duration of one academic year. For each semester, students only earn 50 percent of the credit points provided for in the course plan.

A student may only matriculate onto a part-time course of study on the basis of one of the following reasons:

- ⇒ A job with average working hours of at least 20 hours and no more than 30 hours a week
- ⇒ A disability or chronic illness
- ⇒ Raising and caring for children at home
- ⇒ Caring for relatives
- ⇒ Application process
- ⇒ Examination requirements, examination deadlines and dates remain unaffected by this. Students on a part-time course of study are subject to the same assessments and examinations as full-time students.
- ⇒ The semester fee is also payable in full by part-time students. Part-time students must pay the fees for exceeding the normal period of study (tuition fees for long-term students) in the same manner as full-time students.

In those cases, please contact Student Services:
studservice@hfm-weimar.de
+49 3643 | 555 146

6.3. Students with child(ren)

The ‘Studierendenwerk Thüringen’ offers professional day care at the campus.kinder daycare centre and space in family housing facilities. In the dining halls, children up to six years of age get a free child’s meal upon presentation of a special children’s ID with the order of at least one adult meal. Flexible childcare offered at the Bauhäuschen gives students the opportunity to place their children, aged twelve weeks to seven years, in the trained hands of students for up to four hours a day, up to a maximum of 10 hours per week.

The HfM Weimar strives also to create the best possible conditions for students with children. Parents can take leaves of absence or study part time. Just schedule an appointment with the ‘Allgemeine Studienberatung’ to find out what option is best for your individual situation.

The Studierendenwerk offers General Social Counseling (ASB) to help you with orientation and decision-making as well as information on complex social issues: studying with a child, financing your studies, accident insurance, hardship loans.

You can find the contacts in the chapter on Consultation Services.

6.4. Studying with disabilities

If you have a study-relevant sensory or motor impairment, a chronic-somatic or a mental illness, the Representative of Severely Disabled Students of the Hochschule für Musik Weimar advises – even before starting your studies – for all questions about studying with disabilities. The focus of the consultation is above all the application for individual compensation for disadvantages (‘Nachteilsausgleich’) for study and examinations, internships, excursions, leave of absence or required assistance. The advice is confidential and solution-oriented – in the sense of a self-determined study.

If you want to deregister from an exam, e.g. because you are ill, please contact the Examination Office for advice immediately. In certain cases, it may make sense to submit an application to the examination board. You can also get information about this from the examination office.

Further information on examinations can be found here:

<https://bit.ly/hfmexamoffice>

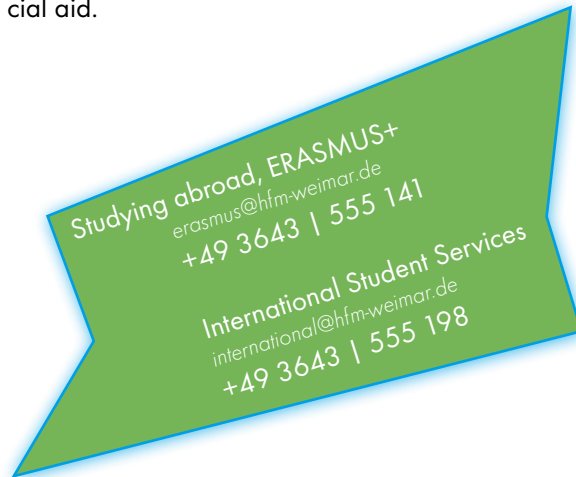

7.3. International Office

The International Office takes care of the integration of international degree-seeking and mobility students into the university community of the HfM Weimar. Events are organized here to help you find your way around the university and in Weimar.

The International Office can also help you plan an ERASMUS+ study and a study abroad at partner universities, as well as a self-organised study abroad. In addition, it provides information on financing options for foreign study.

International students and doctoral candidates can use the International Office to find information and help with visa applications, organising the legal details of their stay, help with arrival, housing search, and financial aid.

International Scouts:

International Scouts are student assistants of the International Office who are there to guide you, especially at the beginning of your studies. They organise many events during the semester, so please approach them if you would like to join! Keep tuned to the social media pages of the International Office to get together with the scouts and build up your network of International students in Weimar.

7.4. Equal Opportunity and Diversity Office

Students who have questions regarding gender equality or gender mainstreaming, or believe that they have been discriminated against, are encouraged to contact the Equal Opportunity Office in order to receive help in clarifying their specific issue.

The Diversity Officer is committed to ensuring that all people can participate equally in university life - regardless of age, gender, sexual orientation, origin, religion, world view, disability, chronic or mental illness.

To be approachable as a first contact in a supportive manner: This is exactly what they stand for. You will find the inclusion scouts in the various faculties and houses as contact persons, in order to jointly find offers of help and suitable support and who are interested in shaping our university togetherness!

The Diversity Officer and the Inclusion Scouts work for an equal participation for everyone at the Hfm, no matter what age, sex, gender, origin, religion, disability or illness. Don't hesitate to get in touch!
