

LANGUAGE CENTRE

The language centre at the Bauhaus University Weimar also gives students of the University of Music FRANZ LISZT Weimar the chance to learn a range of new languages, or to refresh and perfect any language skills they may already have. The portfolio currently includes English, French, Italian, and Spanish; depending on expressions of interest, there may further be classes in Chinese, Japanese, Dutch, Portuguese, Russian, and Swedish. International students can also attend German as a foreign language courses - there is even a course especially designed for music students.

All languages are offered as supplementary courses during term time, and are normally about two to three hours per week. There are also three-week intensive classes for German as a foreign language each March and September. Students at the Departments of Voice | Opera and Conducting and Accompaniment who are required to learn Italian may attend the courses offered by the language centre.
